ROME, July 17, 10:30 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The doctors attending the least hope of their patient's recovery, consider his general condition today somewhat better, whereas they expected him to be much worse. The Pontiff's pulse is exactly as it was yesterday, and his temperature is about the same, while his respiration shows a little improvement, having returned to what it was Wednesday. Dr. Lapponi remained away from the sick room half an hour.

The Osservatore Romana and the Voce eDila Verita, both Vatican organa, give prominence in their latest issues to the news that prayers for the recovery of the Pope have been offered in American Protestant churches. The Voce Della Verita refers to it as "a fact truly symptomatic."

His limbs were uncomfortable, and he feit pains all over his body. Therefore he wished to go back to his armchair. No opposition was made, as the doctors think that nothing can do the Pope much harm, but to the Pontiff's astonment he found he could not dress himself, as he did some days ago, or walk to his chair, so his ever-watchful valet to his chair, so his ever-watchful valet clothed the Pope and almost carried him to the armchair, the Pontiff fre-

ELENA (Mont.) July 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Helena has a romance which has stirred society at the military headquarters of Fort Harrison, and all the clite of the capital. tory will amount to nearly $100,000,000 in the fiscal year just ended. Figures for eleven months ending May, 1903, amount to 384,581,028, and as those for the single month of May amount to nearly $5,000,000, it is apparent that the total for the full year will fall but little below $100,000,000.

months ending with May, $33,080,779 was merchandles shipped to Porto Rico, the Hawaiian Islands, Philippines, Guam, Tutulia and Alaska. Of this total of practically $32,000,000 of merchandise shipped to non-contiguous territory in eleven months ending with May, a little over $11,000,000 went to Porto Rico; $10,000,000 to the Hawaiian Islands, $3,000,000 to Alaska; a little over $3,500,000 to the Philippines and nearly $100,000 worth to Guam and Tutuila.

islands; $11,000,000 from the Philippines; $10,500,000 from Porto Rico and $10,000,000 from Alaska. This $10,000,000 from Alaska is merchandise and does not include gold received from that Territory, which amounted in eleven months to $4,540,677. Adding these shipments of gold which Alaska learned at the State Department that there have been no representations recently from the British government touching the ownership of the small islands south of the Philippine Archipelago and adjacent to the coast of

of the recent naval operations in that

The Sultan of Jolo possesses both temporal and spiritual power over the of his own group of islands, but of the North Coast of Borneo and the adjacent islands, and the assertion of anyting power over such of the nasiritual power over such of the natives as live under the British flag in Borneo and the near-by Islands may have led to the supposition that the funited States government was limproperly asserting sovereignty over British soil.

About the Geiden State's Output of Fruit—Growers Expecting Good Prices. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMEA.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. Theodor Kearney of Fresno, Call. former president of the California Raisin Growers' Association, is stopping in New York, en route to Hamburg, Germany. When seen at the Waldorf today, he talked freely of fruit-trade conditions and prospects on the Coast. Indications, he said, pointed to fruit crops of good size and quality in California, and in view of the shortage elsewhere, growers were expecting higher actions. quality in California, and in view of the shortage elsewhere, growers were expecting higher prices this year. Signing of contracts by growers to de-liver to the Raisin Growers' Associa-tion, he said, was progressing satisfac-torily, and he thought a one-year agreement would be signed generally. Continuing, Kearney said that, genéry-ally speaking, fruit crops all over the United States, except in California, are very short, and there is very little carry-over on the Coast from last year. California fruit growers are well aware of the scarcity, and are expecting good prices.

"The fig crop on the Coast is going to be a fair one," he said; "not very large, nor yet short. Fruit is being damaged more or less by hot winds and other drawbacks, but the result, I think, will be a fair crop and one of good quality. The grape crop promises to be not quite as heavy as it was last year. Early rains during the curing season would do much damage to raisins, but we have not suffered much damage for the last two or three years, and are hoping we will escape this season.

"Regarding prunes, last year the domestic crop was heavy, prices were low

Chickering Pianos, made in Boscome of the shortage of truit crops in Europe. Specially prunes, this year the outlook is very good also for this season. In fact, there is a very sotive demand abroad for California prunes, but foreign buyers will no doubt realise, sooner or later, that they must pay higher figures if they expect to purchase in the American market.

"As to the raisin industry, we are going through the usual process of getting growers to agree to deliver to the California Raisin Growers' Association, and matters are now being adjusted which will, I think, result in the general signing of growers. About 50 per cent. of the growers are always tardy, and put off signing until the last moment, but with a one-year agreement, I believe a great majority will sign. The producers want good prices, and they know that they can't get them unless someone stands under the market and steadles it so as to prevent loss. That is the object of the association."

Truly, some sections of the country, especially where new electric lines have been bulk, may have increased in value more than 50 per cent. during the past twelve months, but on the country where there has been scarcely any increase in land values. Yet sweeping increases in valuation have been made in such cases.

As tending to throw some interesting light on this question, the fol-lowing figures showing the assessed valuation of property in thirty-five of the leading counties of the State, for the fiscal years 1895-6 and 1901-2, are duced from the Statistician. Here we see that of these thirty five counties twenty-six actually show a decrease in valuation of property from 1896 to 1902, while the other line only show a fractional increase. In other words, while Los Angeles county shows an increase between

Patrons visiting any of the seaside 1896 and 1902 of $17,296,000, the other thirty-four counties, combined, show a net decrease of $93,486,000. Again, may be said that this is explained by the wonderful growth of Los An-geles county during those six years. But let us see. This certainly could not fully explain such an extraordinary and abnormal difference as that shown in the above table. Here, for instance, is San Joaquin county, where during the six years referred to, thou-sands of acres that in 1896 were under a foot of water are now rented by Chinamen at over $40 an acre yearly, CAPALIAN—Name. necessary to remind intelligent read-ers of The Times that this great increase is due to the unwise, ruinous and inexcusable policy of Ex-Gov. Gage, who, in order to make on the face a showing for economy, deprived State institutions of money that was due to them, and necessary for their well-being, so that the burden of repairing this damage falls on the pres-ent administration. Now, a State tax of 65 cents means this: Should the present tax levy be confirmed. Los Angeles county will be called upon to make a present to the State of $344,000 in cash more than it would have had to pay under the assessment valuation of last year. Is not this rather a high price to pay for adver-tising our prosperity abroad, and might not a portion of that sum be better expended, say, for instance, on the Los Angelea county exhibit at the St. Louis exposition?

pears to be something like this: The county Supervisors have some very heavy expenses to meet, during the coming year, for a jail and other im-provements. They figured that there would be a big outcry if they should raise the tax limit considerably over the rate of last year, especially as the almost constant turmoil, merely State rate will be so heavy, and so they requested Mr. Ward to pitch in and mark up the assessment roll, apparently forgetting that in doing this they were making a present of several hundred thousand dollars to the State. It is too late now to make changes in individual cases, but it is not too late for a horizontal reduction of say 50 and many citizens, who are by no a far more serious loss to them, in the means tax shirkers, believe that it is long run, than mere loss of wages. the duty of the Supervisors to ser-lously consider this question. As to the subject of individual as-made, as is too often the case, by certain persons to evade equitable levies and escape just payments such cases, where they have been made out. The Times stands by the Assessor and sustains him in his manifest desire and injention to do his duty fearlessly and impartially. It is not right that a few tax shirkers should be permitted to escape their lawful obligations at the expense of the many who are faithful in answering the just financial calls of the State and county.

W HAT OUR SCHOOLS COST. The annual public expenditure in the United States, for elementary bers to nearly $227,000,000. fiscal year 1900-1901, as shown by the report of the United States Commis-sioner of Education for that year, was $226,043,236. This amount is most equal to the total expenditure of all Europe, for a like purpose, the European outlay for the same period amounting to an aggregate of $246,-00,000. The expenditure in the United States, per capita of pupils, however, is much larger than in Europe. The enrollment in the elementary school of Europe is approximately 45,000,000 while the enrollment in the United expenditure for each pupil is therefor about $5.50 in Europe and about $14

A comparison of the amounts spen annually for primary education by some of the larger American cities is interesting. New York, of course comes first with an expenditure of $19,731,629 for a single year. Chicago is next, with $8,203,493. Then, in the order named, come Philadelphia, with $3,319,604: Boston, $3,043,640; St Louis, $1,526,140; Baltimore, $1,417, Cleveland, $1,257,345; Washington, $1.182.916; and New Orleans $478,025 (the smallest amount ex-mistakes without number, which would have caused the public to rewhich gard them with distrust. Many labor organizations are so regarded, princi-pally as a result of bad leadership, which has plunged them into excess such as have cost them dearly many ways, and (most costly of all.) has alienated from them whatever of public sympathy they may have had at an earlier time.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Er gineers enjoys the public respect to a grenter extent, perhaps, than any other labor organization in the country. This is, as we have said, chiefly because it has had, during most of its existence, a sensible and conservative leader, and has followed his counsels If the organization desires to retain the public esteem which it now en-joys, its members will see to it that Mr. Arthur's successor is a man of the same stamp, who will countenance strikes only as a last resort. Most of the reckless so-called labor leaders of the present time use the strike as the weapon of first resort, instead of the last, resorting to it upon the slightest pretext, and often upon no pretext whatever. The result is that the whole industrial world is kept in an gratify the personal vanity and of-ficiousness of a few unscrupulous leaders. How long the sensible, de-cent members of the unions will sub-mit to this outrageous and ruinous imposition, is an unanswered ques-tion. But so long as they do submit to it, they will suffer loss loss of wages, which they can ill afford, and

A conspiracy is on foot in Portugal among army officers looking to a repetition of that little affair which was recently brought off at Belgrade so successfully. It was to be presumed that the coup d'etat would shortly become contagious. But this particular conspiracy has been nipped in the bud, and the conspirators are to be courtmartialed. It is only in Servia where matters looking to the removal of monarchs can be brought off with a programme that syrks like a machine.

long run, than mere loss of wages.

NE GOVERNMENT, ONE PEOPLE.

Isn't it about time for us to away with a dual government in Los Angeles—that of a city and county?
The idea of paying large salaries to two sets of officers and maintaining two great buildings in which to do the public business, located a long distance apart, is little short of ridicunew City Hall, but it ought to cease. we do need a merger of the city and county governments, and that speedily. Property owners have to make dual assessment lists, they have to go to two different offices to pay their taxes, and in many other ways they are incommoded and put to unnecessary expense. This matter should be taken up at the next legislative sea-sion and pursued to a finish. As for a new City Hall, we can probably worry along with the one we have until we have a city and county building to take its place. And there is a very handsome and commodious one already standing at the place where the county officers now hold forth in all their glory. This matter has been aired frequently. It is high time that steps were taken to place the thing somewhat beyond the question of combined city and county government is to go to work and get it.

Kipling took the assaults of the persistent manager in better part. Here in his reply to a proposition:

"Dear Mr. Pond: I am much obliged to you for your letter, but I can't say that I see my, way to the entertainment you propose. There is such a thing as paying 125 cents for a dollar, and, though I suppose there is money in the lecturing business, it seems to me that the bother, the fuss, the being at everybody's beck and cail, the night journeys, and so on, make it very dear, I've seen a few men who've lived through the fight, but they did not look happy.

"I might do it as soon as I had two mortgages on my house, a lien on the horses and a bill of sale on the furniture, and writer's cramp in both hands; but at present I'm busy, and contented to go on with the regular writing business. You forget that I have already wandered over most of the States, and there isn't enough money in sight to hire me to face again some of the hotels and some of the railway aystems I have met with. America is a great country, but she is not made for lecturing in. With renewed thanks for your very kind letter, believe me. "Yours sincerely."

As forecasted in The Times, Master As forecasted in The Times, Masterson, the daring embessier wanted in this city and at present in Germany, cannot be brought back to the United States to stand trial for his misdeeds.

E OIL LAND. Ventura Electric today placed upon claims on oil lands to his guilt.

In giving a short history of the affair
Deputy District-Attorney Fleming, said yesterday afternoon: "On July 14, application was made to this office for the extradition of E. F. Masterson upon five charges of obtaining money under false pretenses from the Continental Building and Loan Association. These charges were filed some weeks ago in the Police and Justice courts. The application was made by the Pinkertons, who telegraphed, saying that they represented the association, and that they had located Masterson in Lundon, Germany. We refused the application on the ground that the charge was not fan extraditable offense.

"They then changed their charge, and made application for extradition for felony embezzlement. Pending a consideration of the latter application we requested Gov. Pardee to ask the State Department to have the consular authorities in Germany detain Masterson until the matter could be passed upon. five charges of obtaining money under lome Telephone on ack Exchange yesauthorities in Germany detain Masterson until the matter could be passed upon.

"Investigation showed that Masterson was in the province of Schleswig-Holstein, a part of the kingdom of Prussia. A treaty exists and is now in force between our government and Prussia in reference to the extradition of criminals, which only provides for the return of a fugitive, who has embezzied public moneys. Of course, as the money taken by Masterson was private funds, this office has finily denied the application, and has requested Gov. Pardee to cancel the request for detention.

"Although this treaty only provides for the extradition of criminals, who have reshed the public pure, there are crimes where they are brought back by special provision, made without the treaty. In international law there iz what is known as the 'vile' crimes—murder, robbery, burglary and forgery, and to get men who have committed any one of these acts, our government agrees to 'swap' criminal for criminal with the other nation. When they want a murderer, or a burglar, or forger over there they gently remind us of the little incident, and American of ficials are requested to stand aside and let the Germans take their man.

"But for ordinary offenses the United States does not wish to be tied down to any foreign power, and only in cases of extreme gravity does it consent to the swapping agreement. A new treaty or even a modification of the old one would set all this right, of the old one would set all this right, of course.

"It was suggested that Masterson might be charged with forgery and brought back in that way, but his accusers forgot that a man, even or foreign soil, must have his preliminary hearing before he can be incarcerated. To do this with Masterson would be impossible, for although he might easily be convicted of forgery here, would have neither the papers or the witnesses over there. And so all we could do was to let him go scot-free.

"His life is one that will be closely watched, however. If he puts foot outside of Germany in a direction where modern treaties are in force, he will find himself at once in the handcuffs of American detectives."

Like the fragrance of a rose comes a sweet breath from the healthy stomach. The breath is an index to the health. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. A disordered stomach strikes terror to the nervous system and weakens every tissue and muscle of the body. It weakens the brain, the heart and damages the kidneys. A disordered stomach starves the blood and weakens the system because it can not digest and assimilate sufficient food to keep up the health and strength.

corrects every disorder of the stomach. It is not recom mended for any complaint except those arising from a disordered condition of the stomach. Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. When you take Kodol everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the nutriment that your food con-tains is digested, assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues. "Last year," said one of the atudents, a stocky, sun-burned young man, who wore a light suit, low shoes, heliotrope socks, and a panama hat with a colored band, "I dailled away my entire vacation. I had a lot of sport, in the same old way, but it certainly did get tiresome. I want diversion. I have never traveled much in the West, and I'd like to learn about the country and the people. One hundred days of hard work wouldn't turn any man, would it:"

Superintendent Bealin says that the idea of workig in the harvest fields in the West seems to be very attractive to students. It offers many advantages. But the students are not the only persons going from New York to help harvest the Kansas crop of wheat. Many jewels require an occasional sleep, so to speak, in order to retain their brilliancy. Diamonds, rubies and sapphires are among the number. Russian Refugee Finds Friends.

Russian Refugee Finds Friends.

Simon Tretickoff, the Russian refugee, who for the sake of giving his little son an environment free from the oppressions of his home land, sacrificed position and property at Kieff, Russia, has found friends Today, after a sojourn of but two days at the Natick, a stranger to our language and people, he goes to San Bernardino, where he has secured employment upon a ranch. Although a member of the Greek Church, and holding a lugrative government position that meant for him easy circumstances, this stalwart son of the land of the Cxar chose rather the hardships of this far away country in the firm belief that here every man has a chance, labor meets its just rewards, and true worth is recognized. To such emigrants America's door stands wide topen.

Rev. Dr. George Thomas Dowling's topic at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, at Simpson Auditorium, Hope street, between Seventh and Eighth, Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, will be, 'The Religion of All Sensible Men.' The service will be printed in full. Assied choir. Seats will be reserved for seat-holders only until the clergy and choir have entered the chancel. Those desiring to become permanent worshipers with this Congregation may secure sittings at $1.50 a month by applying to the committee at the close of Sunday morning services, or at the office of the Treasurer, Mr. Alexander Mills, 330 Byrne Building, Broadway, corner Third.

alk-over 3.50 SHOES

Walk-Overs Go On Grouble Goes Off.

Ten Thousand Pairs a Day

Giving the matter good serious thought, wouldn't it be strange if the Walk-Over Plant, with such an enormous output being distributed through its own chain of stores, couldn't produce a much better shoe for $3.50 than any one else?

Why, there isn't a solitary one of the much-advertised five-dollar shees that surpasses the Wall-Over in excellence of leathers, smartness of style or downright good shoemaking.

Men's Walk-Overs.

No matter what high class leather you want; no matter how "freakish" or how conservative a style you want, the Walk-Over will meet every requirement. Nothing better in style, stock or service can be had in any of the five-dollar makes. Specially treated oak soles-unequaled in durability.

Women's Walk-Overs.

The new models for spring are faultless. Never before has footwear been so dainty, so feminine, so graceful. The lines of the last are not only beautiful, but they are so perfectly molded after the lines of the foot itself that the Walk-Over can truthfully be called a faultless fitting shee.

Ar. Clark filed a "statement" yesterday, that was really not a statement, for while it presumably set out in detail all the company's property, it did not give the value of it. Mr. Clark stated that the average cost per mile of his roads was $1300, and that they were worth about $2000 per mile at this time, many of the rails being old and worn out. This cost price does not include anything but the rails and tlea. The board finally shelved this subject of millions for consideration of some more convenient day.

Drunken Waiter's Wife Refuses to Pay Fine for Man Who Struck Her-Second Trial of Union Striker for Cowardly

One of the most unique complaints ever filed in the Police Court was yes-terday sworn to by a lady who daintily held up her skirts and appeared at the

Jane Doe Nabel, whose full name she does not know, "did willfully and un-lawfully torture and torment a certain animal, to wit, a cat, and cause the same to be tormented, tortured, muti-lated and cruelly killed."

lated and cruelly killed."

The facts in the case seem to be that Mrs. Nabel "hissed" her dog on Mrs. Trumbower's cat. The canine of Jane Doe viciously pursued the feline of Mrs. Trumbower, first into a tree, then to the ground, and then did it all over again and again, and finally the canine chewed the feline fleerally to pieces, in the sight of a number of ladies living in the neighborhood. All of them are named as witnesses, and will appear in the Police Court today.

Gussie Would Not Relent.

Gussie Would Not Relent.

"Gussie, Gussie," plaintively called W. H. McDonald, a restaurant waiter, in the Police Court yesterday, as his wife left the room after her husband had been condemned to twenty-five days for striking her and threatening to kill her, but Gussie never so much as looked his way.

The pair came from Philadelphia about five months ago, and took rooms on South Olive street. On Tuesday McDonald went home drunk, taking a friend with him, and ordered his wife to hurry up and get supper, which she declined to do.

Her refusal angwed him and he threw a hair brush at her, cutting her face and giving her a black eye. He then took a flat iron and said he would kill her.

Two other women Mard the fight going on and saw McDonald strike his wife with his hand.

"It's all a conspiracy, Your Honor," asid McDonald, blubbering like a baby. "I love my wife and I never struck her; I acknowledge I was drunk. I have no money, but my wife has, and she paid my way across the continent. You don't suppess she'd do that if I didn't treat her right?"

But the evidence was too strong, and when Justice Chambers gave him "125 or twenty-five days." McDonald thanked him effusively. His plaintive appeal to his wife showed that he hoped to have her relent and pay the fine, but she didn't.

Two days after he abused his wife McDonald went to the house and got into a dispute with the landlady, and as a result she has lodged against him a complaint for disturbance of the peace. On this he will be tried on Tuesday.

Union Thug on Second Trial. The greater part of yesterday occupied in Justice Chambers's court in securing a jury for the re-trial of S. D. Voorhees, the union striker, who, by miscarriage of justice, escaped con-viction several weeks ago for his cow-ardly assault upon a boy named John Haverstick.

Haverstick.

It will be recalled that Voorhees laid in wait for Haverstick as the latter was at work on a pole of the Sunset Telephone Company, late one evening. and when the boy came down voor-hees followed him and assaulted him with his fists. He then took the boy's wheel and threw it over an embank-ment. There was no effort to contro-vert the facts, but there was a weak effort to prove an alibi. A couple of union sympathizers who managed to get on the jury stood out for a dis-agreement, and thus forced another trial of the case, which is now in prog-ress. It will be taken up again at 9 o'clock this morning.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 17.—The first definite step looking to the acquirement of a new municipal water system was taken yesterday. The enterprise involves an expenditure of some 1300,000, which the people voted for last December. Yesterday the Water Committee of the City Board of Trustees visited the sites of both the Antill tract and the old city plant, and designated the places where the work Antill tract and the old city plant, and designated the places where the work of development will be commenced at once. Hecentia Salaz, a young Mexican, was acquitted of the charge of attempting to rob an old man, Harper, the jury being out only ten minutes, in Judge Oster's court today. The prosecuting witness was missing, but his testimony at the preliminary examination was introduced. The defendant testified that his companion. Jesus Buteries, who was yesterday convicted of the crime, took the money from Harper's pocket. Harper had been drinking, and-had fallen into an ash pile. The Mexican lad assisted him to his feet, when Harper said that he had money, and invited the boys to help themselves, as they had been kind to him. Buteries took Tarper at his word, and ran his hand into the man's pocket him. Buteriez took Tarper at his word, and ran his hand into the man's pocket and took about $7. Then Harper began to yell, and the boys ran away.

ULTIMATUM FELL FLAT. The ultimatum of the union, ordering the electric linemen in the employ of the Sunset Telephone Company to quit work, fell on barren ground in San Bernardino. Yesterday was the limit fixed by the union for the men to strike, but not a single lineman in the company's employ here quit his job. Superintendent Kayser stated last evening that not a lineman on the entire. San Bernardino division, which includes all the territory from Los Angeles to San Diego, had left the company's employ, on account of the union

Among the improvements suggested are the placing of all wires, electric, telephone and trolley, on arms from poles placed in the center of the street, so that the shade trees on the sides need not be mutiliated. It has also been agreed that incandescent, and not are lights be used on the street.

SUGAR-MAKING BEGINS. SANTA MARIA. July 17.—The Union Sugar Company began operating its factory at Bettaravia this morning. The sugar-making season promises to be the most successful of any yet experi-enced in previous years, the officials This the company is enabled to do with an increased acreage, which has been thoroughly irrigated. Heretofore beet planting was not begun until March and April, while in the past winter seeding began as early as December and January, thus giving the growing crop the advantage of the winter rains in addition to the irrigation, which was carried on by means of powerful pumping plants. The new beet crop is now being plowed up and 500 tons are already in the sheds. It is expectit that in the next few days this amount will be increased to 10,000 tons. The new beets which have been tested thus far in the factory's laboratory run up to 30 per cent. purity and contain 20 per cent. of sugar, which is considerably higher than they have averaged in any previous year. This the company is enabled to do with serious injury to an unsuspecting passer-by. An empty whisky barrel, which had been corked for several days, had been standing on the sidewalk exposed to the sun's heat, and a gas formed, which leaked out slowly. A passing pedestrian struck a match on the barrel, when the escaping gas caught fire and caused a terrific explosion. The barrel was blown to pieces and a number of persons standing close by were thrown from their feet. The man who lit the match suffered slight burns and was also badly shaken up.

In midsummer the sands of the desert are hot. On a moonlight hight their whiteness makes the heat-strick-en travelet think of snow. Some have been found on the desert so crazed with thirst and the hallucination mentioned that their lips would be pressed against the burning sand as though they were eating snow.

After an hour's rest, said Feflows, he started again on his journey. Vexed as he was over the loss of his pack animal, the terrors of the valley had not yet stricken into his soul. Still, he knew that he must saye the water in his canteen, and so every hour he drank sparingly from it, but he had not reached the miser stage.

There is not a better government on the face of the earth today than that of Mexico. The people there are peace-loving: the administration of law is characterized by a justice and impartiality unknown in this country. While all classes worship President Diaz for his great worth, in fact, idolize and worship him, should he step aside, there would be hardly a ripple on the surface. In the event of his surrender of office, Minister of Finance Jose Ives Limantour will undoubtedly succeed him. And I regard this same ministre to be one of the world's greatest financiers.

More Than One Hundred Come from First Boptist Congregation.

Following the marriage of two congregations in this city, a few days since, comes the birth of a congregation full grown—but not through growing, it is safe to say.

Temple Baptist Church came into existence last night with 358 members, named the famous Robert J. Burdette as its pastor, elected a full board of officers, subscribed the funds to run the business, and will execute its papers of incorporation today.

The membership of the new organization comes from nearly all the Baptist churches in the city, but the First Baptist Church, over which Rev. Joseph Smale still presides, furnished more than 100 of the total.

As naturally as water finds its level, the mind runs back to almost a year ago, when a Baptist banquet was ago, when a Baptist banquet was given at a leading hotel, with Robert J. Burdette as the guest of honor. That was the conception of the birth that took place last night, under the most auspicious circumstances. All that took place last night, under the most auspicious circumstances. All was unanimity, except in the choice of a name. Several were proposed, but only two had any following, the vote being almost evenly divided between "Metropolitan" and "Temple." The latter won on the second ballot

Life of Pens.

A HISTORY OF WILLIAM PENN. By W. History Of WILLIAM PENN. By W. History Of William. New Amsterdam Book Company. New York.

Dixon's life of Penn is of importance chiefly because of its very able analysis of the charges made against Penn by Macaulay in his History of England. In republishing this volume the New Amsterdam Book Company has therefore put into the hands of all who are interested in the history of one of the founders of this country a convenient means of refuting the slanderous assertions of one whose history has on account of its wonderful style been accepted by many as authentic and on account of the many cheap reprints that have appeared in this country is still very widely read. Macaulay was prejudiced against the Quakers to an extent that was ridiculous in the case of any man who made any claims to historical ability. There seems to have been something in their enthusiasm and religious intensity that rendered him incapable of judging them aright. He refused to heed the expostulations of those who were quite as conversant with the facts as he and persisted in many of his errows in regard to Penn to the sind of his life. The important part mere the expostulations of those who were quite as conversant with the facts as he and persisted in many of his errors in regard to Penn to the end of his life. The important part of Dixon's work is the supplementary chapter that takes up each of the charges made against Penn and disposes of them. And we believe that these charges are generally looked upon by those who have made any investigation of the matter as distinctly disproved. As for the rest of the book, there is little that is in any especial way of any present-day importance. The subject has been worked over very carefully by a number of writers and there has been much additional matter brought to light. Dixon's book is a revision of his earlier work and so is in advance of the condition of history at the time in which it was brought out in answer to Macaulay. This revision is a matter somewhat old, yet in all essential subjects the account of the founder of Pennsylvania is accurate and fair. It forms one of a new series entitled the "Commonwealth Library," which includes a rather miscellaneous collection of volumes. They are well printed and of an eminently convenient size and shape. The make-up of the books is good and in this age of reprints it is strativing to find that several-volumes have been included in the series which are not readily accessible and yet have a distinct value. Especially is this the cave in regard to a few books which like that before us would hardly have paid for reprinting were it not for some such means as a series to insure a wider reception than otherwise would, have hear means as a series to insure a wider reception than otherwise would.

not made by Christ and his aposites acting under his guidance and impiration. It is, however, so essentially a phase of religious mysticism that it is easily perverted and misjudged. It approximates furthermore to Quietism and teaches "Perfectionism." But as for the latter, we have never been able to see that it was distinctly contrary to the teaching of Scripture and the spirit of 'Christianity, although there is the tremendous contradiction in the religious experience that those who have been most holy have been in most cases those who most deplored their sinfulness. The Keswick movement in which the principle of holiness, always to be understored apart from the accaments and the objective means of grace, was revived and made a new power in the modern spiritual life, began about thirty vears ago in England. It takes its name from the fact that at the little village of Keswick there is a yearly conference of all those who are adherents of the movement. It ageks to build up the spiritual life in every demonization of Christians and has not been confined to any one branch of the church. It has been most successful among those who have not any very clear motion or baired in the institutional aspects of Christianity and who call themselves evengelical. The present sketch of the history of the movement is written in a rather enthusiastic style by one who has long been identified with it and wrill vive a good idea of what its adherents alm after and what they propose as means of spreading the tenets of their ordery.

Seng of Solomos.

Hurns-Johns Robert Howard Russell, New York.

This gem of the Old Testament, which is printed under the title of "The Song of Songs." with six illustrations and decorative borders by Sir Edward Burne-Jones, is, aside from its artistic attraction and value, repealally interesting because of the legendary hypothesis as to its origin and authorship. The Scriptural interpretation of this famous Hebrew classic is that the song treats of the relationship between Christ and the Church. It teaches that the fine lines portray the love of the Church for Christ, and that Solomon was their author, beginning, "The song of songs, which is Solomon's." In his introduction to this volume FitzRoy Carrington explains that it is now generally conceded that Solomon is the subject, but not the author of the poem, and that it was probably written by some bard in Northern Israel, of which, at that period Tirsah was the capital. It is thought, Mr. Carrington maintains, that the poem was composed before $23 B. C., and after

is on "The Economics of Imperialism," and the second on "The Politics of Imperialism." In the former are discussed the commercial value of imperialism, its usage as an outlet for population, its economic parasites, etc., in the latter, the political significance of imperialism, its scientific defence, its moral and sentimental factors, and its influence on the lower races, especially those of the Far East. Mr. Hobson's most direct definition of his subject is to be found in the very last paragraph of the work. He says: "Imperialism is a depraved choice of national life imposed by self-seeking interests which appeal to the lusts of quantitative acquisitiveness and of forceful domination surviving in a nation from early centuries of animal struggle for existence. Its adoption as a policy implies a deliberate renunciation of that cultivation of the higher inner qualities which for a nation as for an individual constitute the ascendency of reason over brute impulse. It is the besetting sin of all successful States, and its penalty is unalterable in the order of nature." T. M. O. and Verse" contains a number of very readable poems. They have strength and beauty of expression, and in a number of instances are rich in thought and originality. Dr. Taylor is at his best in his sonnets and odes to the master bards. Of these we think the best is the one to Poe, which we quote. He walked beneath the raven's wing. A wayward child in lightless gloom, And there his tracing songs did sing And weave his haunting tales of doom.

THE HISTORY OF ANCIENT EDUCATION.
By Samuel G. Williams. C. W. Bardeen.
Syracuse. N. Y.

This work. "The History of Ancient Education." by Dr. Samuel G. Williams, "grew out of lectures given by the author in Cornell University, and comprises the first half of his course on the history of education." The contents set forth the trend and principle of educational opinion and practice from the earliest periods, of which there is authentic record to the time of the general revival of learning.
Until recently, Dr. Williams was professor of the science and art of teaching. Cornell University, and is an eminent authority on educational history. These lectures are musually clear and convincing, and are undoubtedly of literary value. That they cover the field in a thorough manner will be seen from a glance at the table of contents. The general subjects considered are: "Ecucation the Embodiment of Ideals of Life," "The Ancestral Ideal," "Caste Education,"

The handsome launch Pasqualita, owned by J. A. Graves, was employed for the trip. Superintendent Robert A. ## BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley. SUNDAY, JULY 19.

I Sam. xii, 13-25: "Samuel's Parewell Address."

THE CONNECTION.

The people are now ready for the all stage in their kingmaking—the direment of Samuel from the judge-tip, leaving all administration to all and his helpers; the concentration of Samuel's whole force on his ork as a prophet, so as to direct the people and Saui. It seems if Samuel had been looking for a king.

God has often taught people through miracles appealing sometimes to fear mounce the miracle came from God. This storm convinced the people because it showed that Samuel was God's messenger and therefore that his words about their demand for a king were from God, and they were sinning in not trusting to one so mighty, instead of asking for a king.

God has often taught people through miracles appealing sometimes to fear work as a prophet, so as to direct both the people and Saul. It seems both the people and Saul. It seems as if Samuel had been looking for a suitable time for such action, when he rould—accomplish two prime alms in soling it—establish Saul fally in his place; bring the people to penitence for tasking for a king. He achieves both aims. As for Saul, he had been chosen by God; chosen and annointed by Samuel; chosen by the people; proven to be kingly in ability in his chosen by God; chosen and annothed by Farmuel; chosen by the people; proven to be kingly in ability in his defeat of the Amanties; established in Higal as king. Now is the time, when annuel can publicly confirm him in his office and formally turn over all judicial functions to him. As to the people—they had never confessed that it was a sin or even a mistake, though female has sought to win that confession from them. Now he succeeds, as we shall see. In the early part-of his address he vindicated himself from any imagined charge of wrong-doing as a judge, and then gladly, yet tearfully, testified that he had been a righteous judge. Then he took up the matter of their king and their sin and gained his point.

THE LESSON.

THE LESSON.

"Calls Them to Obedience." (Verses 13-15.)

Calls Then to Obedience, 13-15.

Now, therefore, behold the king whom ye have chosen, and whom ye have chosen, and whom ye have asked for: and, behold, Jehovah hath set a king over you. 14. If ye will fear Jehovah, and serve him, and harken unto his voice, and not rebel against the commandment of Jehovah, and both ye and also the king that reigneth over you be followers of Jehovah, well: 15. But if ye will not harken unto the voice of Jehovah, but rebel against the commandment of Jehovah, then shall the hand of Jehovah, then shall the hand of Jehovah, be against you. as it was hovah be against you, as it was against your fathers."

For disobedience their punishments had all come on them. Obedience is the one all-inclusive requisite.

I. It was to be obedience not to the king, but to God, who gave them the king, but to God, who gave them the king, at their request.

2. Obedience to the king because he was God's appointee and-representative in the degree to which he is faithful to God.

I. It must be an obedience of the spirit as well as the letter, springing out of a wholesome "fear" of the Lord, which refrains from wounding as well as disobeying Him, for the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

4. It must be an obedience of the d. It must be an obedience of the letter as well as of the spirit, ready for His "voice" of instruction and His "commandmentsy. The commands of God were specific, and many of them were well known, others to be given later.

5. The obedience was to rise to the spiritual level of service and be useful to their Lord. It probably meant careful attention to the religious ceremonials that God had given them, and might have also meant something of what we mean by the phrase, as we serve God by helping His people.

5. This obedience will suppress all those sentiments of rebellion, that had at times been manifested by them and had led to the demand for a king.

7. This must be an obedience of themselves and their king as well, though it is implied that their obedience will secure that of their king. He and they are under the same law of life and these words were said for his benefit as well as theirs. Saul must have been one of the most attentive listeners that day.

5. This obedience is arged with many comforting implications of God's loving presence and care. His care was disclosed in the statement that "the Lord hath set a king over you." "His voice" will speak to them with wisdom and love! He will make it possible for them. to "continue following the Lord."

Moreover, as fgr me, far be it from me that I should sin against Jehovah in ceasing to pray for you; but I will instruct you in the good and the right way. (24.) Only fear Jehovah and serve Him in truth with all your hearts, for consider how great things He hath done for you. (25.) How things the hath done for you. (25.) Whole-hearted, c onstant, uncleaned service to God will not forsake them, and I keep His favor and keep them out of the hollow in cekery of empty idolatry.

Two things cheer them. God will not forsake them, and same with them, and He has already done to make them because He had a purpose with them, and He has already done to make them because He had a purpose with them, and He has already done too much for them to let them go. He has invested heavily in them. It is in accordance with His name, which stands for His nature, to hold on to fail to event the power he has in prayer in their behalf.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The faith that is built on "signs and wonders" is easily battered down; the repentance that is due to a thunder-storm is soon over when the sun comes out again. The shallowness of the contrition in this case is shown by two things—the request to Samuel to pray for them, and the boon which they begged him to ask, "that we die not." They had better have prayed for themselves, and they had better have asked for atrength to cleave to Jehovah. They were like Simon Magus cowering before Peter and beseeching him, "Pray ye for me to the Lord," that none of the things which ye have spoken may come with me." That is not the voice of tru erepentance, the Godly sorrow which works healing and life, but of the sorrow of the world which worksth death. The real penitent will press the closer to the forgiving Eather, and his cry will be for purity more than for pardon.—[Mactaren.

I think myself, that the grip of God on the tuman soul is like the grip of gravity on matter—not an atom of it ever gets away. It is ground to imponderable powder; burnt into impalpable smoke; melted into invisible vapor; it is gravity on matter—not an atom of it ever gets away. It is ground to imponderable powder; burnt into impalpable smoke; melted into invisible vapor; it is tossed about and hidden and transformed; but it never gets away from the grip of gravity. Samuel seemed to feel that way about the souls of men, and I do, too. He will never forsake them. So don't get discouraged and let go your hold of him who never lets go his hold on you.—[Goss.
